

Methamphetamine contamination of residential property in New Zealand: the property law and insurance law implications

Why now?

How could chemical contamination affect you?

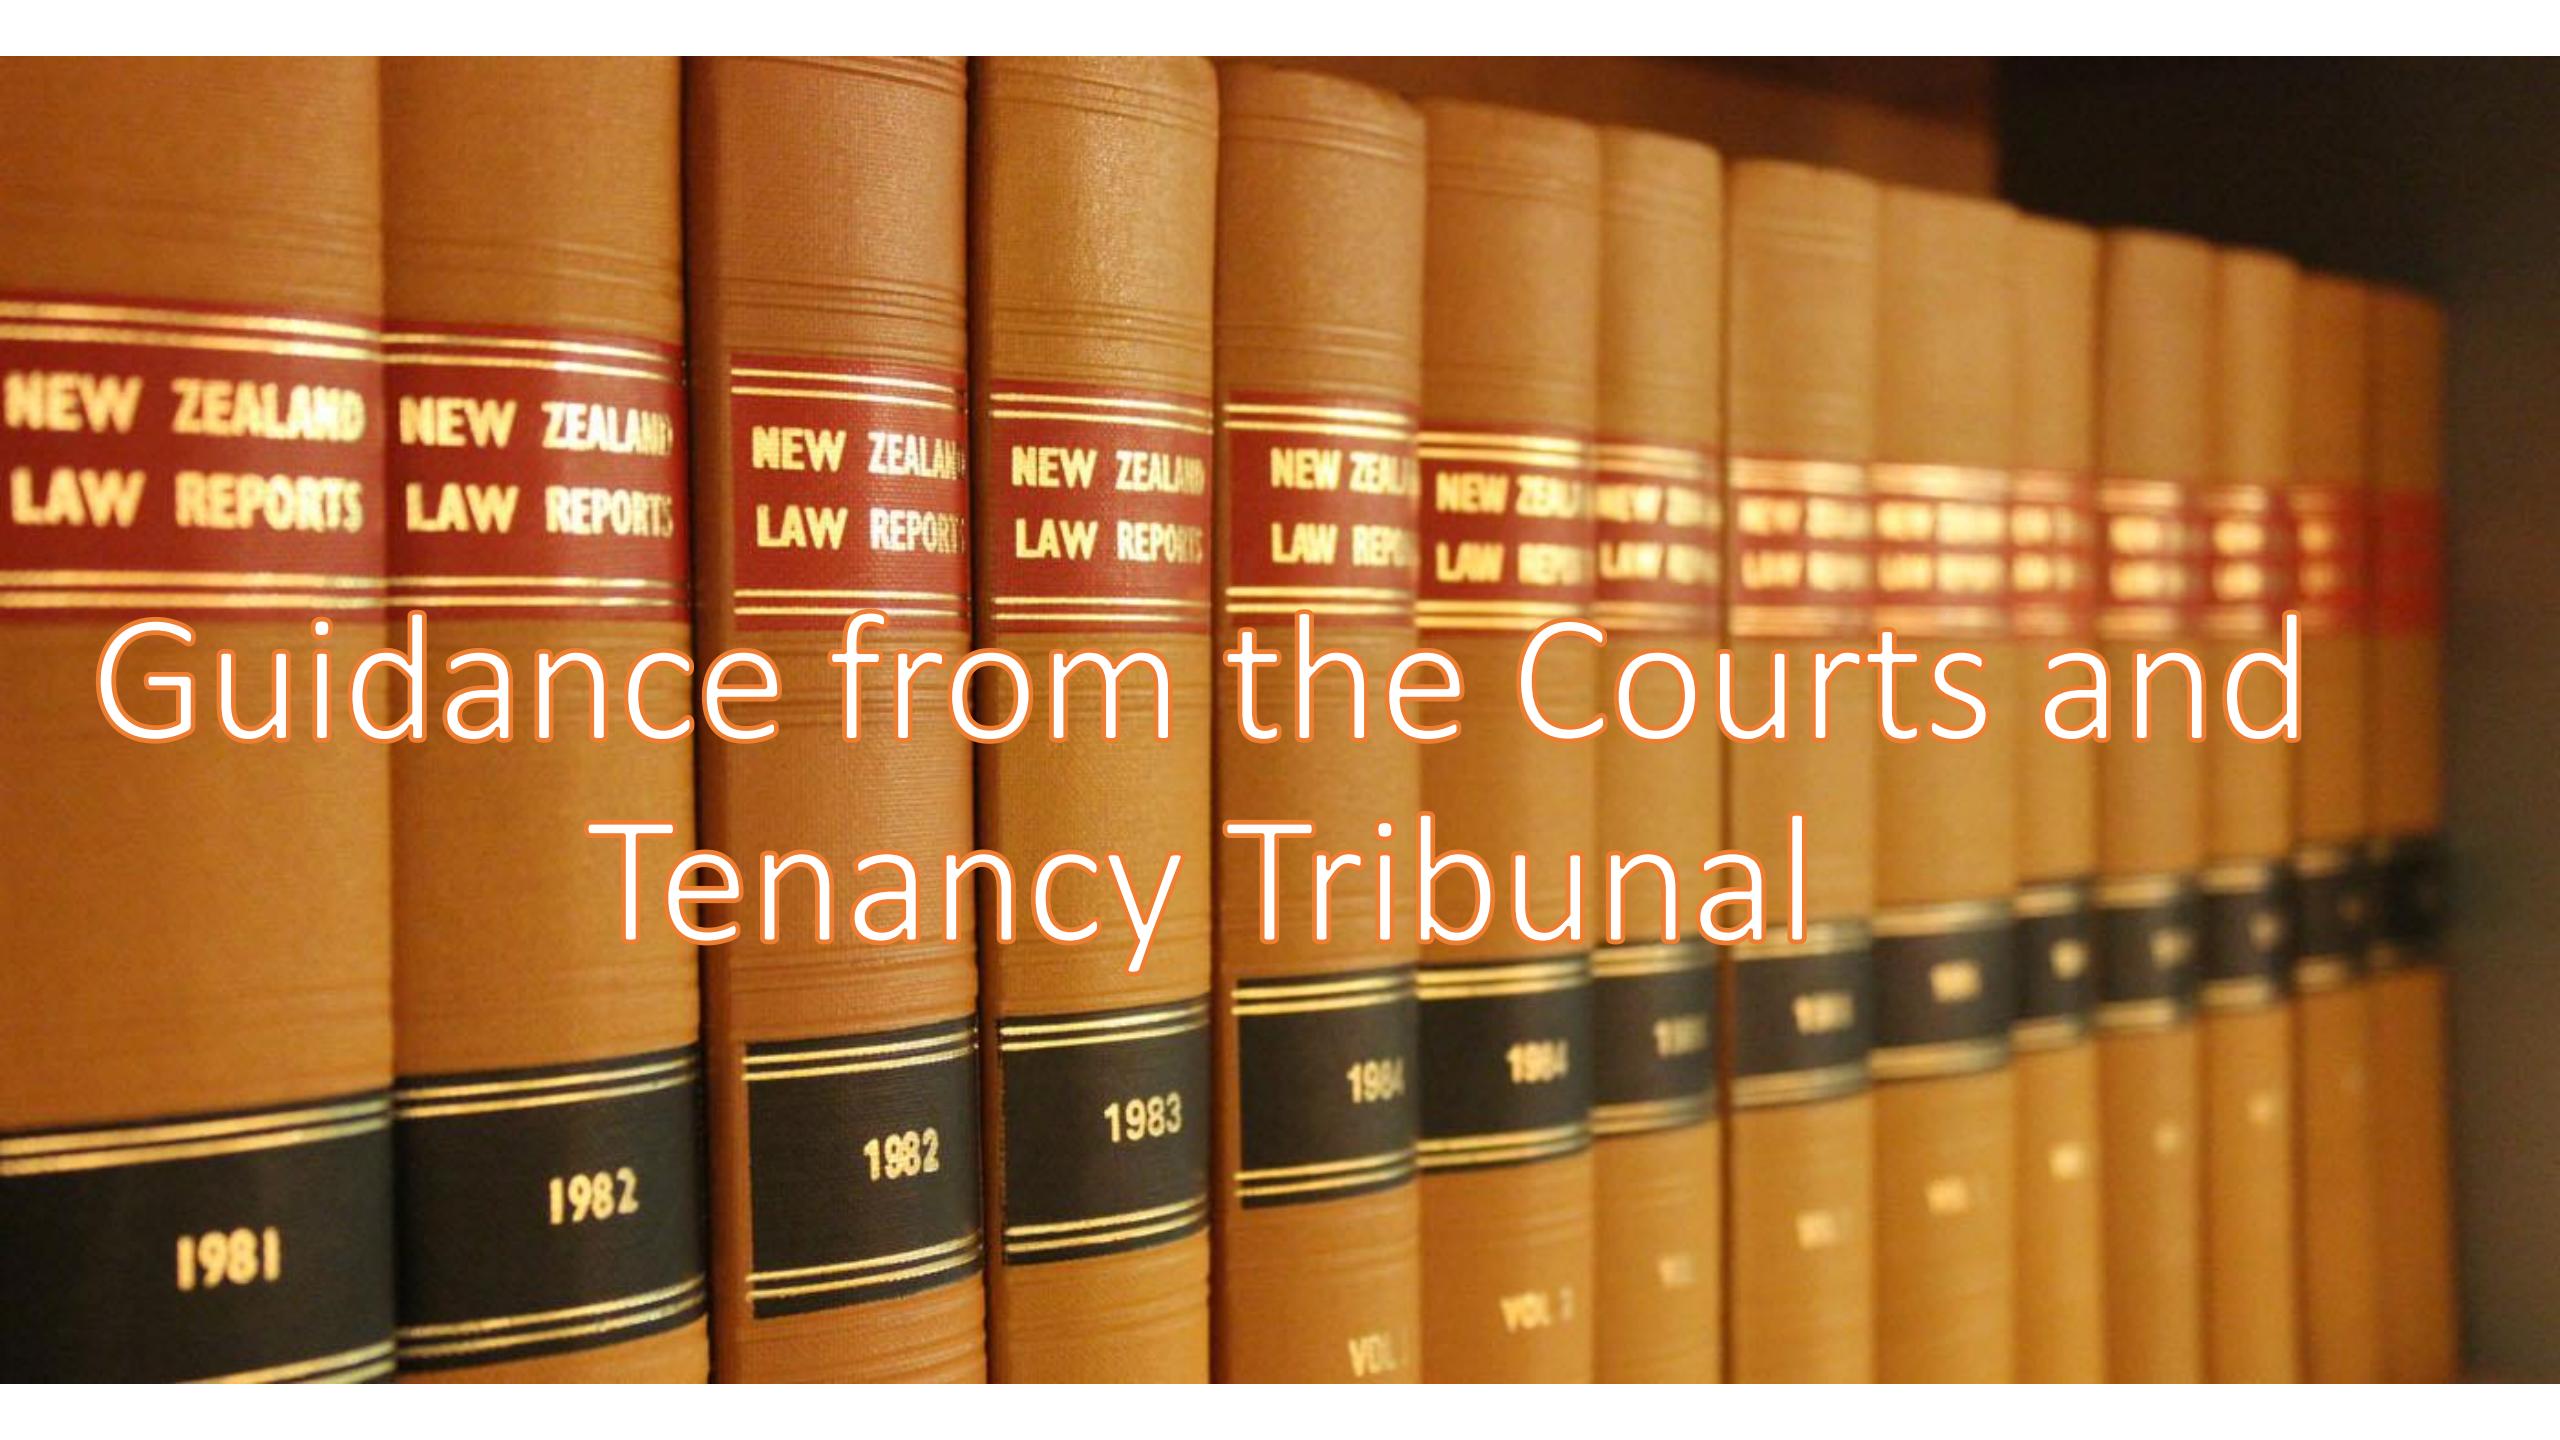

Our Legislation

The guidance and the current standard: NZS 8510

A row of New Zealand Law Reports books from 1981 to 1984. The books are bound in brown leather with gold-tooled spines. The title 'NEW ZEALAND LAW REPORTS' is printed in gold on the red spine labels, and the year is printed in gold on the black base labels.

Guidance from the Courts and Tenancy Tribunal

Room for ambiguity:

1. types of loss;
2. testing methods;
3. materials that cannot be accurately tested

Insurance claims

what to do

WHEN YOUR HOUSE
TESTS POSITIVE FOR METH

Future development

NEW ZEALAND QUALIFICATIONS AUTHORITY
MANA TOHU MĀTAURANGA O AOTEAROA

Kate Warren – kate.warren@meareswilliams.co.nz